Installation:

Disassemble the diamond plate replacement kit and put aside all items apart from the dovetail body brackets.

Take the pair of dovetail body brackets (see picture to the left) and move together, placing them around the body of the gearbox.

Hook the dovetails over each other. The bracket should stay together.

Please read and understand instructions before attempting installation

Place the packer and the chain guide over the exposed hole in the dovetail brackets. Insert the Hex head bolt, through a washer, then into the assembly. Fasten underneath with a washer and nylon lock nut.

The new chain guide is now ready for use.
